Electric Light Matters Discussed

A public meeting was held on Thursday night last to discuss the situation in regard to the financial condition of the town electric light plant and the proposed agreement with the Olds Electric Company to supply power to the town.

Mayor J. M. Reed presided and Coun. P. R. Reed gave a summary of the financial returns and conditions of the local power plant which certainly was not encouraging. According to this summary the plant requires from $2,000 to $3,000 out of the general taxes to keep even with the game. Mr. Reed thought that our present equipment, if sold soon should fetch in between $10,000 and $12,000 which would be invested in bonds and half to meet the Light Debenture Debt.

Mr. Brown, superintendent of the Calgary electric light department and one of the promoters of the Olds Electric Company, was present and read the proposed agreement and answered questions put by the audience.

The main points in the agreement were the Company are to supply electric energy to the town easternly limits for 12c per kilowatt hour and the town must agree to take 40,000 k. hours per year.

The protection to the town in case of broken down or poor service is that the Company shall remit to the town double the cost per k. hour for every hour that it is without service outside of natural causes.

The Company agrees to provide a 24-hour service.

The agreement to run 10 years.

Mr. Brown was asked several questions and amongst them was what he thought the chances were of disposing of our present machinery. He stated that he thought they were good but that the plant, outside of the electrical machinery, not be sold to any firm outside of a coal mining concern or something in that nature.

A discussion arose on the cost of supplying the power to consumers and it was stated that the town could not reduce the present price for at least a year after the Company started to supply juice to the town as there would be incidentals to purchase, such as a large transformer, etc., to put the present plant in shape.

The matter of the poor service in Olds was brought up and Mr. Brown stated that this was caused largely through the lack of a piece of machinery that they were unable to get yet and it would be about two months more before it was received.

The meeting did not express any opinion by vote as to what they thought of the idea and finally dispersed.

Robert Dollar

Before he was 14 was a cook's boy in a Canadian lumber camp. At 21 he was a lumber foreman and saved money on wages of $10 a month. From his first investment in a boat in which to transport lumber cheaply his shipping venture grew to a fleet. Today—a lumberman, shipowner and merchant because early he began to save his money. Once get the saving habit and unless you are an exception to the rule you will find that saving money is as easy as spending money. We welcome the opportunity of serving you.

Proportional Representation —No. 2

In last week's article on the above subject some of the inequalities of our present system of electing representatives to public office were pointed out, the growth of the P.R. method of election noted, and one or two principles underlying that method outlined. In conclusion it was stated that an endeavor would be made to explain the method of voting and election in this week's article.

First of all, let it be repeated and emphasized that it is the essence of representative government that every voter should be represented in the representative assembly. If a considerable proportion of the electorate come to feel that they have no voice in the Government, the distance is short to that dangerous state of mind which regards political processes as futile and hopeless. The world today, Canada included, requires to guard against this.

The theory of Proportional Representation is that each considerable party or group of opinion should be represented in parliament, or legislature, or municipal council, in proportion to its voting strength—that majorities may rule and minorities be heard. How does Proportional Representation put this theory into practice? The method used is what is known as the transferable vote.

When the ballot with the list of candidates for an office, say a municipal council, is presented, the elector, instead of marking "X" after his choice, or choices if more than one is to be elected, as at present, votes as follows:

(a) By placing the figure 1 after his favorite candidate. The voter may also:

(b) Place the name 2 opposite his second choice.

(c) Place the figure 3 after his third choice, and so on, numbering as many candidates as he pleases in the order of his preference, and may even so indicate his preference for a larger number of candidates than are actually to be elected.

A candidate, to ensure election, need not poll a majority, but only a certain proportion of the votes cast, called a quota. This quota is the smallest number of votes required to ensure election. For example, in a constituency electing only one member, it is not necessary even now that a candidate should poll all the votes; if he obtains one more than half he secures a majority and is elected, because no one else can poll so many. Similarly, under P.R., it would be necessary in a one-member constituency for the candidate elected to secure a clear majority. In a two-member constituency, a candidate who obtains one more than a third would be elected, for only two candidates can each poll more than a third. If three members are to be elected, it would take one more vote than a fourth of the votes cast to ensure election.

This quota necessary to election is, therefore, found by dividing the total number of votes cast by one more than the number of representatives to be elected and adding one. For example, assuming that there are three candidates to be elected, and the total vote cast was 620. The latter figure divided by four (that is, one more than the number to be elected) gives 155, and this, plus one, gives 156, which would be the quota, and as not more than three candidates could secure that number, regardless of how many might be in the field, those three would be elected.

The next question is: How are the votes counted and transferred?

(a) The first preference votes obtained by each candidate are noted—that is, the candidates opposite whose names the figure 1 has been marked by the voters.

(b) The quota is ascertained in the manner outlined above.

(c) Candidates, if any, who have received the quota, or more than the quota, are declared elected.

(d) Surplus votes of those candidates who have received more than their quota are transferred, in strict proportions, to the undected candidates indicated as the next preferences by the voters (that is, candidates having the figure 2 opposite their names).

(e) Any further candidates who, as the result of such transfer of second preferences, have received the necessary quota are declared elected.

(f) The candidates lowest on the poll are then eliminated one after another, and the votes they receive are transferred, in accordance with the next choice of the electors indicated thereon. This process is continued until the required number of candidates have obtained a quota, or the number of candidates not eliminated is reduced to the number of seats vacant.

It will be seen, therefore, that whereas under our present system the voter who marks a ballot for a candidate who is at the foot of the poll completely loses his representation in the public body for which the election is held, under Proportional Representation he, having failed to secure the election of his first choice, has his ballot transferred to his second choice, if his second choice fails of election, his vote is transferred to his third choice, and so on. Thus every voter, in the final analysis, is represented by a representative for whom he recorder a preference. Surely, a more democratic and fairer way than obtains under our present system.

(Next week some examples of how P.R. has worked out where it has been tried will be given, and possibly some of the objections raised against P.R. answered.)

Chain of Imperial

Aerodromes

London.—Right Hon. Mr. Weir, at a public welcome to the crew of the R-34 at Glasgow, stated that he looked forward to the time when there would be a chain of imperial aerodromes linking the main units of the Empire and connected by auxiliary services to the smaller nations. He said that he had great faith in the usefulness of coastal flying boats, as proposed in connection with Australian and West Indian coastal services. Military reasons, he stated, required the linking up of the Empire by definite routes, largely coinciding with the commercial routes. He deplored the government action in monopolizing civil aviation, and anticipated great results from the rivalry of private firms.

Sir Robert Horne stated that the public had not yet realized the remarkable war work accomplished by the airships. The Admiralty had started with eight and finished with a hundred—beating the Germans.

Regulate Cold Storage

Washington.—Federal regulation of cold storage as an aid in reducing the cost of living was agreed to by the house agriculture committee, as recommended by the President in his address on the high cost of living. The committee reported a Bill limiting the time that food may be held in storage to twelve months, and providing that cold storage food must be plainly marked.

Soldiers Will Maintain Law

"The Veterans of France and Comrades" Incorporated for That Purpose

Ottawa.—"The Veterans of France and Comrades," a corporation with head office at Hamilton, has been granted incorporation, according to notice given in the current issue of the Canada Gazette. The corporation is granted for purposes including the following:

"To stand by the civil authorities in suppression of mob law and brute force."

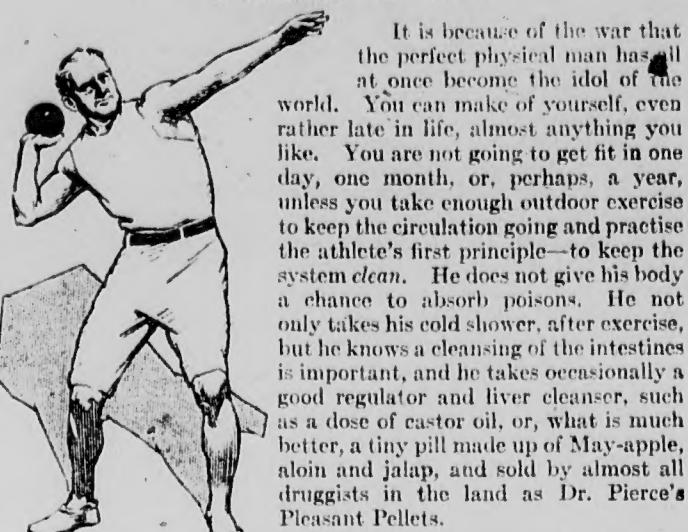

"To use every endeavor possible to restore returned soldiers to a social sphere in civil life."

The directors are John Anderson, M.C.; James Findlayson, D.C.M., M.M.; James A. Smartt, John Newton, M.M., and Dr. J. A. Stirling, all of the city of Hamilton, Ont.

Corns are caused by the pressure of tight boots, but no one need be troubled with them long when so simple a remedy as Holloway's Corn Cure is available.

Keeping Fit

BY DR. SAMUEL HAMILTON.

It is because of the war that the perfect physical man has all at once become the idol of the world. You can make of yourself, even rather late in life, almost anything you like. You are not going to get fit in one day, one month, or, perhaps, a year, unless you take enough outdoor exercise to keep the circulation going and practise the athlete's first principle—to keep the system clean. He does not give his body a chance to absorb poisons. He not only takes his cold shower, after exercise, but he knows a cleansing of the intestines is important, and he takes occasionally a good regulator and liver cleanser, such as a dose of castor oil, or, what is much better, a tiny pill made up of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and sold by almost all druggists in the land as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

Keep the kidneys in good order also. Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking "Anurie" (anti-uric-acid). This can be obtained at almost any drug store.

Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headaches, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout; or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. Take heed, before too late! Get Anurie (anti-uric-acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your nearest druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package of "Anurie".

Admiral Beatty Given Banquet

Unique Compliment By Sailors To Admirals Of British Fleet

Portsmouth, England.—Vice-Admiral Sir David Beatty was given a unique compliment when, with 42 of his admirals, he was entertained at dinner in the town hall here by some 500 lower deck men, and presented with a silver cigar box as a token of loyalty and affection from all the ratings in the navy.

The day was made a great occasion here, salutes being fired upon the vice-admiral's arrival, and his automobile being hauled through the streets to the town hall by sailors. Twenty thousand townspeople gathered at the town hall and cheered heartily, while the 500 hosts of the vice-admiral formed up on the steps to welcome him.

Owing to the oversupply of optical illusions it is difficult to make some men believe what they see.

It Makes New Friends Every Day

Not a day goes by that Dr. Thompson's Electric Oil does not widen the circle of its friends. Orders for it come from the most unlikely places in the west and far north, for it has travelled far. It deserves this attention, for no oil has done so much for humanity. Its moderate cost makes it easy to get.

The Proposed Light Agreement.

According to the statements made at the meeting on Thursday night in regard to the agreement with the Olds Electric Co. there are a few points which the ratepayer should consider thoroughly before making up their minds to vote either way. One is "Is the town protected enough if the service is poor?" We have had excellent service so far owing to the fact that Superintendent Mjolsness understands his business and also to the fact that in spite of the drawbacks in financing the plant has gradually been put into better shape every year by the addition of improvements. If we are to suffer the experience of our northern neighbours a ten-year agreement will be too long. Why not insert a clause whereby if the service loses so many hours in any year outside of natural causes the town will have the right to cancel the agreement. No matter how much the Company is willing to reimburse us for lack of power the discomfort and inconvenience caused to both business interests and private consumer is incalculable and cannot be estimated in dollars and cents. There is no doubt but what the Company will use their main supply line for farmers' uses, and as there will be at least a 10 per cent line loss in the plant large enough to carry the heavy load which will be required. The promoters say that it is or will be.

To Prevent Unemployment.

Next year will be well advanced before Canada's main expenditures for war can be completed. Every dollar that can be raised for the Victory Loan 1919 will be required.

Although hostilities ceased in 1918 the war expenses went on.

This is just as much a war year as last year was, as far as the money is concerned. Pressing liabilities incurred by the war and involving vast sums of money have to be cared for. The simplest and most profitable manner in which this can be done is for the people to provide the money themselves.

The Victory loan 1919 is entitled to just as much consideration as was given to its predecessors. It is up to every loyal Canadian to do his utmost to make the new loan an overwhelming success. The continuance of the prosperity of the nation is wholly dependent upon it.

It was naturally to be expected that trade depression in the Dominion would have followed the armistice, but this was averted by the application of a large proportion of the last Victory loan as credits to Great Britain and our Allies for grain, dairy produce, fish, lumber and ships. These credits were absolutely necessary, and strictly good business. They must be continued. They are national re-investments. The debts will be paid eventually and in the meantime industrial and agricultural workers will be kept in busy and lucrative employment.

Simple Way to Get "Pep." To Be Put Right On Your Feet

When a man has lost ambition to "dig in" and stay at things—when he complains of headache, fullness in the right side, pains in the shoulder blade—it's purely a case of "Liver."

These symptoms invariably indicate a clogged, inactive liver. The body can't get rid of its wastes, and the whole system is half paralyzed.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills stimulate the liver into activity in one night. Using a mild vegetable laxative, they produce results in a few hours. The bilious headache and constipation are cured, spirits rise, complexion clears, animation returns. Nothing in the calendar so efficient for that tired, lazy feeling as Dr. Hamlin's Pills. Very mild, don't interfere with work, invariably do lots of good. Try a 25c box, all dealers.

"That is a good thought," agreed Mr. Duncan, "but not a conclusive one. In reckoning the happiness a man gives we must, of course, subtract the unhappiness he occasions. He may make a great sum of money, and use much of it in creating happiness, but if in the making of the money he used methods that resulted in unhappiness, we must subtract the unhappiness first before we can give him any credit for the happiness he has created. And I am disposed to think that many a philanthropist, if weighed in that balance, would be found to have a debit side bigger than his credit. No matter how much wealth a man may amass, or how wisely he may distribute it, we cannot credit him with success if he has oppressed the hiring or dealt unfairly with his competitors or the public. Such a man is not a success; he is a failure. In his own soul he knows he is a failure, that is, provided he still has a soul, and if not, as I said before, he is a greater failure still."

Out of this discussion Mr. Duncan evolved the copy line, "The success of a life is in direct proportion to its net contribution to human happiness," and Dave sat writing it far into the night. As soon as Dave had learned to read a little Mr. Duncan took him one day to the public library, and the young man groped in amazement up and down the great rows of books. Presently a strange sense of inadequateness came over him. "I can never read all of those books, nor half of them," he said, "I suppose one must read them in order to be well informed."

Mr. Duncan appeared to change the subject. "You like fruit?" he asked. "Yes, of course. Why?"

"When you go into a fruit store do you stand and say, 'I can never eat all of that fruit,' crates and crates of it, and eatheads more in the warehouse? Of course you don't. You eat enough for the good of your system, and let it go at that. Now, just apply the same sense to your reading. Read enough to keep your mind fresh and alert, and vigorous; give it one new thought to wrestle with every day, and let the rest go."

Oh, I know that there is a certain school which holds that unless you have read this author or that author, or this book or that book, you are hopelessly uninformed or behind the times. That's literary snobbery. Let them talk. A mind that consumes more than it can assimilate is morally on a par with a stomach that swallows more than it can digest. Gluttons, both of them. Read as much as you can think about, and no more. The trouble with many of our people is that they do not read to think, but to save themselves the trouble of thinking. The mind, left to itself, insists upon activity. So they choloroform it."

Mr. Duncan also took occasion to speak with Dave about his religious views. He did not forget Dave's explanation of why he went out of the church. "I sympathize with your point of view a great deal," he said, "but don't be too sweeping in your conclusions. The church is too fussy over details, too anxious to fit the mind of man—which is his link with the Infinite—into some narrow, soul-crushing creed, too insistent upon the form of belief and not nearly consistent enough upon conduct. It makes me think of a man who was trying to sell me an automobile the other day. He was explaining all about the trimmings; the cushions and the lights and the horn and all that sort of stuff, and when he was through I said, 'Now tell me something about the motor. I want to know about the thing that makes the wheels go round. If it's no good I guess the trimmings are only fit for junk.' Well, that's the way with the church. The motor that has kept it running for nineteen centuries is the doctrine of love; love of man to man, love of man to God, love of God to man. Nothing about wrath—that's only a back-fire—but love. Without that motor all the trimmings are junk. Each sect has its own trimmings, but they all profess to use the same motor . . . Still, the motor is all right, even if it is neglected and abused. I don't think you'll find a better, and you must have power of some kind."

"What about Socialism?" asked Dave. "Very good, insofar as it is constructive. But there is a destructive brand of Socialism which seizes the fancy of disappointed and disgruntled men and women, and bids them destroy. There is a basic quality in all human nature which clamors for destruction. You see it in the child pulling his toys to pieces, or in the mob wrecking buildings. Destruction is easy and passionate, but construction demands skill and patience."

"I have been at some of their meetings," said Dave. "They lay great stress on the war between Labor and Capital—"

"Between husband and wife in the family of production," interrupted Mr. Duncan. "Nothing is to be gained by that quarrel. I admit the husband has been overbearing, offensive, brutal, perhaps; but the wife has been slovenly, inefficient, shallow. Neither has yet been brought to realize how hopeless is the case of one without the other. And I don't think they will learn that by quarreling. What they need is not hard words, but mutual respect and sympathy, and an honest conception of what constitutes success. Doctrines and policies are helpful to the extent to which they cause men to think, either directly or by creating environment conducive to thought; but they will never bring the golden age of happiness. That can come only through the destruction of selfishness, which can be destroyed only by the power of love. That is why I emphasized the motor in our talk about the church. It is our only chance."

Dave's talk with Mr. Duncan became almost nightly occurrences, either at the Duncan home, or when he drove the family—for the master of the house often accompanied them—or when they met downtown, as frequently happened. And the boy was not slow to realize the broad nature of the task to which Mr. Duncan had set himself. His education was to be built of every knowledge and experience that could go into the rounding of a well-developed life.

The climax seemed to be reached when Mr. Duncan invited Dave to accompany him to a dinner at which a noted thinker, just crossing the continent, had consented to speak.

"It will be evening dress," said Mr. Duncan. "I suppose you are hardly fitted out that way?"

"I guess not," said Dave, smiling broadly. He recalled the half-bitter sarcasm with which the Metford gang referred to any who might be seen abroad in their "Hereford fronts." He had a sudden vision of himself running the gauntlet of the ridicule.

But Mr. Duncan was continuing. "I think I can fix you up," he said. "We must be pretty nearly of a size, and I have a spare suit." And almost before he knew it was arranged that Dave should attend the dinner.

It was an eventful night for him. His shyness soon wore off, for during these months he had been learning to accept any new experience gladly. "Life is made up of experience," his teacher had said, "therefore welcome every opportunity to broaden your life by travelling in new tracks. There are just two restrictions—the injurious and the immoral. You must grow by experience, but be sure you grow the right way. Only a fool must personally seize the red iron to see if it will burn . . . But most of us are fools." And as he sat among this company of the best minds of the town he felt that a new and very real world was opening before him. His good clothes seemed to work up in some way through his subconsciousness and give him a sense of capability. He was in the mental atmosphere of men who did things, and by conforming to their customs he had brought his mind into harmony with theirs, so that it could receive suggestions, and—who knows?—return suggestions. And he was made to think, think, think.

As he walked home with Mr. Duncan under the stars he spoke of the subtle sense of well-being and ability which came with good clothes. "I don't mind confessing I have always had something like contempt for silly dressing," he said. "Now I almost feel that there's something to it."

"There is some good quality in everything that survives," said Mr. Duncan. "Otherwise it would not survive. That doesn't mean, of course, that the good qualities outweigh the bad, but the good must be there. Take the use of liquor, for instance; perhaps the greatest source of misery we have. Yet it touches a quality in man's life; sociability, conviviality, if you like; but a quality that has virtue in it none the less. And the errors of sex are so often linked with love that one can scarcely say where virtue ceases and where vice begins. I know convention places them plainly enough, but convention does not make virtue vice, nor vice virtue. There are deeper laws down beneath, and sometimes they may set at defiance all accepted codes."

"Yet I would not quarrel with the accepted codes—until I knew I had something better. Accepted codes represent man's net progress through experience to truth. The code, for instance, 'Thou shalt not kill,' we accept it in general, but not completely. The State does not hesitate to kill in self-defence, or even to carry out purposes which have no relation to defence. And shall we not allow similar exceptions to the other codes? And yet, although we may find our codes are not infallible, are they not still the best guides we have?"

"To return to clothes. Clothes won't make you, but they will help you to make yourself. Only, don't become a clothes-tippler. You can run to intoxication on fine raiment as well as on fine wines. It has a virtue in it, but just beyond the virtue lies the vice."

CHAPTER EIGHT

The summer was not far gone when Dave, through an introduction furnished by Mr. Duncan, got a new job. It was in the warehouse of a wholesale grocery, trundling cases and sacks of merchandise. It was cleaner than handling coal, and the wages were better—fifty dollars a month, to begin.

"The first thing is to get out of the dead-line," said Mr. Duncan. "I am not hoping that you will have found destiny in a wholesale warehouse, but you must get out of the dead-line. As long as you shovel coal you will shovel coal. And you are not capable of anything better until you think you are."

"But I've liked it pretty well," said Dave. "As long as I was just working for my wages it was dull going, but it was different after I got to see that even shovelling coal was worthwhile. I suppose it is the same with

Huge Stocks Held In Cold Storage

Winnipeg.—There is sufficient butter in cold storage in the warehouses of the Manitoba Cold Storage Company and the William Davies Company to take care of Manitoba's home consumption for nearly five months, reports filed by the managers of the two plants at a recent session of the Board of Commerce food probe revealed.

Gordon W. Shantz, general manager of the Manitoba Cold Storage Company, stated that there are in storage at present 1,367,000 pounds of butter. John MacPherson, manager of William Davies' plant, has 367,878 pounds of butter in storage, making a total of 1,734,878 pounds of butter stored in these two warehouses at present. Both managers declared that this was nothing out of the ordinary and certainly not an abnormal condition.

The Manitoba Cold Storage plant has a matter of 1,110,000 dozen eggs in storage.

Particulars of the butter stored with the William Davies Company showed that Arthur Lobb, M.L.A., for Rockwood, has 13,500 pounds.

Over a half million pounds of frozen beef is stored by the same firm for Gordon, Ironside and Fares, also 30,000 barrels of pickled pork. One of the men assisting with the work of the commission made the comment at the close of the session that he believed there would be discovered 3,000,000 pounds of beef in cold storage in Manitoba before the board was through its probe.

Hun Activities In Baltic

Germany's Recall of General von der Goltz Will Not Satisfy Supreme Council

Paris.—Germany's recall of General von der Goltz from the Baltic region will not satisfy the Supreme Council, it is asserted, the Council being determined to place economic pressure on Germany until all German soldiers are withdrawn from the Baltic.

While it cannot be said that a blockade is actually on, steps are being taken to bring about financial pressure which will speedily cut off the German food supply and bring the German public to a realization of the fact that German activities in the Baltic states must cease.

Custom Receipts

Ottawa.—Customs receipts for the six months of the fiscal year ending September 30 totalled $82,269,212, an increase over the same period last year of $256,323. For the month of September alone receipts totalled $14,332,40, which was $2,756,720 greater than in September, 1918.

Notables Marked For Assassination

Testimony Given By Former Military Attaché of German Consulate

San Francisco, Cal.—Charles M. Schwab, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, former British Ambassador to the United States; Lord Fisher, of the British Admiralty; the late Lord Kitchener, and the British vice-consulate at Ensenada, Mexico, were marked for assassination by agents of the German government, according to sworn testimony given by former First Lieutenant Wilhelm von Brincken, formerly military attaché of the German consulate in San Francisco, to Commissioner of Immigration Henry M. White, of Seattle, Washington.

A transcript of the statement was received here by Attorney Henry M. Owens, von Brincken's legal adviser in San Francisco. Von Brincken is serving a two-year sentence in the federal penitentiary at McNeil's Island for the part he played in the so-called Hindu conspiracy case.

SUMMER COMPLAINT IS A SERIOUS BOWEL TROUBLE

Very few people escape an attack of Summer Complaint. It may be slight, or it may be severe, but nearly everyone is liable to it.

You can't tell, when it seizes on you, how it may end.

Allow the profuse diarrhoea, the vomiting and purging to continue for a day or two and you will become weak and prostrated.

Just as soon as the bowels become loosened up, get a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and check these unnatural movements, and thus prevent the system from becoming weakened.

Mrs. L. J. Alteen, wife of the well known wholesale and retail Fish Dealer, 44 Hill St., Amherst, N.S., writes:—"I have four children, the oldest being eight years old. Every summer they were troubled with Summer Complaint. Doctors' prescriptions did not seem to help them any. One day a friend asked me to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I at once got a bottle, and to my surprise and wonder, I soon saw a change in them. I now keep a bottle of it in the house all the time, and will recommend it to any mother."

D'Annunzio Aids Regulars

Blockade of Fiume Is More Severe Than Formerly

Rome.—Orders closing the Jugo Slav frontier have led to the chief of staff of the 26th Italian regiment army corps at Abbassia to interview Captain d'Annunzio's chief of staff and discuss measures to be taken. This has resulted in the sending of some of Captain d'Annunzio's volunteers to hold the armistice line according to the Epoca, which adds: "The event shows the cordial collaboration between the d'Annunzio troops and the regulars."

The correspondent of the Epoca says the blockade of Fiume is more severe than formerly, even mail being held at the frontier. There is food sufficient for three months for the population of Fiume.

Milk Advances In Toronto

Instead of 15 Tickets for a Dollar Consumer Will Receive Only 13

Toronto.—Under the order of the Board of Commerce, the price of milk will be increased here. Instead of 15 tickets for $1, the consumers will now receive 13 tickets for the same sum, which means an advance of a cent per pint.

The board permitted an increase to the farmer of 45 cents a can, which, upon the basis of consumption of 6,000 cans per day, means an increased income to the farmers of $2,700 a day, or $985,000 per year.

Rumanians Seize German Plane

Manned By Four Officers Who Resented Their Arrest

Geneva.—Rumanian troops have seized a big German biplane carrying 300,000,000 paper rubles and a miniature but complete printing press at Hothi, Bessarabia, according to the Rumanian bureau at Berny. The plane, which was en route to Moscow, was forced to land at Hothi because of a leak in the gasoline tank. It was manned by four German officers, who are said to have resented their arrest. The rubles were all said to have been new notes.

Russian General Must Apologize

For the Arrest of Two United States Officers

Vladivostok.—Maj. Gen. Graves, commander of the United States forces in Siberia, has demanded an apology from General Rozanoff, in command of Russian troops in Primur province, for the arrest of two United States officers, Captain L. P. Johns and Corporal Benjamin Spearling, and the flogging of the latter by Cossacks commanded by General Kalninkoff. An investigation of the conduct of a Japanese officer at Irkutsk, the place where the arrests took place, has also been begun by the Japanese high command. The incident, which occurred September 5, is considered one of the most serious to occur since the allies landed in Siberia. The men were arrested by a detachment of Cossacks, who claimed the Americans were not provided with identification papers.

May Flame Into War

Italian Situation Becoming More of an International Question

Paris.—The inflamed conditions in the Adriatic region and the dissolution of the Italian parliament for the holding of a general election on November 16, as Rome dispatches have announced, is giving the supreme council much concern, in view of the possibility of all the Balkans becoming involved in the turmoil.

In peace conference circles the approaching Italian elections are regarded as a struggle between the war and peace parties, or rather between the forces on the military side and those of socialistic and pacific tendencies, while it appears that d'Annunzio and Fiume would be an issue. The feeling is growing in Paris that as d'Annunzio has indicated that his aspirations include far more than Fiume, the Italian situation is daily becoming more of an international question.

The view is expressed here that the agitation might flame into war any day, if, for instance, a Jugo-Slav should happen to be killed by Italian troops.

Too Much Canadian Bacon

So Plentiful That It Is Being Sold To Soapmakers in England

Montreal.—The Herald quotes a man who has just returned from Liverpool as claiming that unripened Canadian bacon was sent to the soap factories in England. "Canadian bacon is a drug on the market in England," says the Herald's informant. "When I was at Liverpool 2,000 cases of Canadian bacon were going bad on the wharves there. It was sold to Lever Bros. to melt down to soap. Cases of Canadian bacon of 500-pound lot cases sold for 1s 2d each, or 28 cents for 500 pounds."

Retailers Will Be Called To Give Evidence

Toronto.—Another sitting of the Board of Commerce will be held here when Judge Robson, chairman, W. E. O'Connor, vice-chairman, and F. A. Acland, deputy minister of labor, will be the commissioners present.

The probe will embrace the retailers' end of the high price of wearing apparel. Retailers will be called to give evidence, and the costs will be worked back to the manufacturer to see where the great spread comes in the prices of all textiles at the present time.

The sitting of the court promises further interest in the fact that the "big five" packers will be on hand to fight to the last ditch the order bringing down the price of wholesale pork products.

U. S. Shipyard Tied Up Now

About 60,000 Men in Grip of Great Industrial Struggle

San Francisco.—Involving approximately 60,000 men, including both skilled and unskilled labor, San Francisco, Oakland and Alameda are in the grip of industrial disturbances which have greatly hampered industry in the entire San Francisco Bay district. Shipyard and iron trades workers, tailors, stevedores, taxi drivers, clerks, street railway employees, ferry boat employees and river steamer men are affected.

The most serious development in the labor situation came when 25,000 shipyard and iron trades workers in Oakland and Alameda, and 30,000 in San Francisco, struck. The shipyard and iron workers went out in an effort to force the payment of a wage increase of eight cents per hour.

Union officials say the tie-up of the shipyards is complete. No statement was forthcoming from the California Metal Trades Association.

Blockade Begins

Paris.—The blockade of Germany which was threatened by the allies in case the German troops of General von der Goltz were not removed from the Baltic region has started, according to the Intransigent. No food ships, it declares, will be permitted to start for Germany until further orders are issued.

Vessels now on the way to German ports, however, will be permitted to proceed to their destinations.

St. Louis, Mo.—Warning that if Germany is permitted to continue her "indefinite operations" in Russia, in ten years she would become as powerful as before the war, David R. Francis, American ambassador to Russia, talking before the convention of the American Bankers' Association, said the real solution of industrial unrest in Russia and the United States is in the peace treaty. He urged immediate ratification of the League of Nations.

He charged that the Brest-Litovsk treaty was arranged by Lenin with Germany, and that Lenin and Trotsky were German agents. Labor troubles all over the world emanated from Russia, he said, and said it was impossible to establish peace in Europe while the Bolsheviks reigned in Russia.

Town Council Meets.

A Meeting of the Town Council was held on Monday evening, Oct 6th. Members present: Mayor J. M. Reed, Councillors P. R. Reed, Herber, Howe, Chambers, G. H. Diesemer, Solicitor Freeman Abenstein: Coun. Ruby.

Minutes of previous regular and special meetings were read and adopted and a number of communications were disposed of.

On motion a report of the Provincial Sanitary Inspector was referred to the Board of Health.

The secretary was instructed to reply to the communication of A. McDonald, Superintendent under the Mothers' Allowance Act, advising him that Hattie Violet is not a resident of Didsbury as defined under the Act.

On motion several bills in hands of the Secretary and approved were passed by the Council.

By-law No. 179, to fill vacancies on the Board of Health, was given three readings and passed.

By-law No. 180, a bylaw to supply electric power to the town, was given two readings and the necessary instructions given to submit a vote to the ratepayers.

Bylaw No. 181, to fix a date and appointing a Returning Officer to take the vote on Bylaw No. 180 was given three readings and passed.

The Council then adjourned.

Everyone Who Bought Canada's Victory Bonds Made Money . . . . .

EVERY one of the million and a half subscribers to Canada's Victory Bonds knows that he can sell them today for more than he paid for them.

Every one who bought Canada's Victory Bonds has received 5½ per cent. interest per annum—paid twice a year.

Over half a million Canadians who bought Canada's Victory Bonds on the instalment plan saved money that they would not otherwise have saved.

The guarantee back of Canada's Victory Bonds is the same as the guarantee back of a One Dollar or a Two Dollar bill. There is this difference, however, that you get interest on the Victory Bonds and you don't on the One or Two Dollar bill.

Canada's Victory Bonds will always be accepted as security for a loan.

Banks are ready to loan money on Canada's Victory Bonds.

Canada's Victory Bonds may be turned into cash at any time.

There is no other way in which you can invest your money with such absolute security—paying such a good rate of interest.

Canada will soon give her citizens an opportunity to buy Victory Bonds 1919. It will probably be the last chance to buy Canada's Victory Bonds on such favorable terms.

Prepare to buy as many Victory Bonds this time as you now wish you had been able to buy the last time

WHY YOU SHOULD BUILD ONLY FROM PLANS

Every building you put up this year and from now on should figure largely in your future.

Whether it be a new house or only a machine shed it will help you make money by saving it.

Just how much it will help depends on how well it fits into your needs now and later.

If you go ahead and build without any plan or any reference to future years and needs you are very likely to find that in a short time the building doesn't fit and you have to re-model, enlarge or build new.

WHATEVER YOU DECIDE TO BUILD GET A PLAN FOR IT, WE MAKE THEM FREE

And just because it is a FREE service don't think that it isn't worth anything.

These plans are made to fit your ideas and your needs. They are made so that your buildings will be strong and durable and cost the least that they can be made to cost and be built right.

Just as soon as you decide to go ahead with any building see us at once for plans as well as material.

AROUND THE TOWN

The installing of new machinery for printing necessitated certain alterations in the building. This has caused us to be late with this week's issue of the Pioneer. Please don't kick but accept our apologies. —The Editor.

During the necessary alterations the door was wide open and the windows were out, and it was very cold and nobody had a prescription. —The Devil.

Miss Ara Weber came up from Calgary to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her mother.

Alasur Watson, Paul Spink, and Gus Gertz, of Calgary, were in Didsbury for the Thanksgiving holiday. They were all visiting friends and relatives.

The committee who had charge of the Chautauqua festival should feel well satisfied with the success of their undertaking. They sold out their guaranteed number of tickets and are a little to the good. The three days entertainment were well worth while.

As usual the lecturers brought here by the Chautauqua were of a high class but perhaps the most popular was Sam W. Grathwell's lecture on "Getting by your hoodoo," on Monday night. Mr. Grathwell certainly handled his subject in a masterly way and is an artist who can swing his audience at his pleasure. The lecture was not only full of humor but contained a lot of splendid advice on every day life.

The G.W.V.A. gave a dance in aid of their funds on Monday night last and were successful in getting quite a number of the townspeople to support them. Returned men should get in touch with the offices or members of this local and join up.

The Rugby W.I. will meet at the home of Mrs. R. McNair, on Thursday, Oct. 30th, instead of Thursday, Nov. 6th.

Rev. D. McGregor is preaching a splendid series of sermons on Old Testament characters on Sunday nights at the Presbyterian church. Last Sunday night he spoke on "Enoch" and next Sunday night he will continue the series, his subject being "Moses." These sermons are well worth hearing.

A rummage sale will be held by the W. I. at Rugby schoolhouse on the evening of Friday, Nov. 7th. Donations will be gratefully accepted.

Pte. C. W. Morris, of the Belcher hospital, visited Mr. and Mrs. Wrightson last week. He is still on crutches but will have a special boot very soon which will enable him to walk. Pte. Morris enlisted with the 50th Battalion and was right beside the late Lieut. Stauffer when he was killed.

Schools Convention.

The Convention of the Olds Inspectorate, which took place in Olds last week, proved to be a success, despite the inclement weather. As usual, the Didsbury exhibits made an excellent showing. The awards for public school work were as follows: Art, 1st prize; Writing, 2nd prize. In the High School section the following awards were obtained: Art, 1st prize; Maps, 1st prize; Writing, 1st prize; Essays, 1st prize; Letters, 1st prize; Short Story, 2nd prize. The candidates in the public speaking contests were also remarkably successful, winning two out of the three prizes offered. The five-dollar gold piece for the best toast to "Our Schools" was obtained by Leona Weber, and the ten-dollar gold piece for the best speech was awarded to Aymer Liesemer. The other contestants Winnie Moyle and Ernest Clarke, also acquitted themselves very creditably. Two teachers of the Didsbury staff, Miss Sexsmith and Miss Lantz, contributed to the programme lessons in Grade 1, singing; and lessons in Grade 10, literature; Classes from the Didsbury schools went to Olds for the occasion. In this connection it should be remarked that the pupils in doing so displayed an admirable school spirit, as their attendance was not compulsory, and as some expense to each pupil was entailed.
